Several tools are used for creating vector graphics, including the Line, Shape, and Magic Wand tools. The Line tool draws smooth lines, while the Shapes tool makes rough vector shapes. The Magic Wand tool is very helpful in selecting colors, shapes, and regions of interest in your images. [Study on the determination of trace elements in Traditional Chinese medicine based on ICP-MS]. In recent years, based on the application of ICP-MS technology, some methods were used to determine trace elements in Traditional Chinese Medicine. However, most of them were indirect determination methods. The valence of element was not analyzed. The instrument and sample preparation method are always a key factor in quantitative analysis. In this paper, six trace elements were selected as standards to set the quality control of the determination of trace elements in traditional Chinese medicine, and single element was used to detect the dissociation state of the instrument, which can optimize the detection condition and improve the detection accuracy. In order to study the behavior of the instrument in interlock, the sample was added with other elements, which could be used to analyze the dissociation state of the other elements of the sample. In order to study the effect of various sample preparation methods on the determination results of trace elements in traditional Chinese medicine, the acid washing solution was used to remove the impurities, and the pH value of the extraction solution was adjusted to be optimal before performing the traditional extraction. The results showed that the instrument had good quality, and the recovery rates of the six metals were high. The average recovery rates of the six elements were in the range of 83%-111%, and the RSDs were less than 5%. - 5*p + 1 Let m(k) = -3*k3 - 6*k2 - 11*k - 12. Let n(a) = -a2 - 1.
