A north-south arterial street and a light rail line set the city apart from other urban sprawl in Austin. You'll find small, quaint stores and restaurants along South Congress Avenue. It's the perfect place to grab a cup of coffee and a pastry, or stop in a few boutique shopping centers. A few unique places are a must see if you are looking to get out and enjoy the outdoors. Take a tour of the Armstrong Ranch (Armstrong Park), one of Round Rock's gems. Take a drive down Round Rock Parkway for a view of the park and the scenic riverbanks. This area has been designated as one of America's 100 Most Endangered Historic Places. If you're looking for a little bit more of a change, head out on Highway 183 to Llano Estacado State Park and enjoy its many scenic sights. If you're looking for a quiet, peaceful location, you'll find plenty of it in Round Rock. It's on the way to the Austin City limits, giving it a tranquil, out-of-the-way feel. It's not too big, and not too small. You'll find plenty of room to park your RV or tow vehicle and feel like you're miles away from the city. Families will love the small town feel and outdoor activities. There are two city parks with a splash pad, paddle boats, a huge playground, volleyball courts, and basketball courts. Just minutes away are the Southtown Lake, Lick Creek Park, and the Round Rock DMA. Even with all the amenities, the area has a small town feel, and there's plenty of charm to its residents. Just like the rest of Austin, its people are friendly and will offer a helping hand to those that need it. You'll find a lot f988f36e3a
